What We Look For in Freshman Applicants

Virginia Tech takes a holistic approach to reviewing applications, which means we review the whole applicant – you're not just a GPA. The most important factors are your strength of curriculum, grades, and standardized test courses.

Other factors to be considered include:

- Personal Statement
- Intended Major
- Extraordinary Talents
- Disciplinary Record
- First Generation / Legacy
- Diversity
- Activities & Leadership
- Corps of Cadets

Transfer Applicants

Transfer applicants are reviewed based on completion or substantial progress toward completing prerequisite courses and overall GPA in college coursework. Competitive applicants will have a 3.0 GPA or better.

We strongly encourage transfer applicants to contact our office and work with an admissions director as early as possible before applying.
